States brimming with plans and a vision. After reviewing a multitude of breed books, they were stunned to find that this intriguing horse was not officially named or recognized as a breed, and began to pave the way for a registry in the U.S. With the blessing of dedicated Gypsy Horse breeders in England, they chose the name Gypsy Vanner Horse and established the breed registry.

The mission statement of the Gypsy Vanner Horse Society is to bring honor, recognition, and a better understanding to one of the world’s most colorful and least understood societies and the horses they so dearly love. To respect the spoken words of Gypsies that have dedicated their lives in the pursuit of a dream to create the perfect caravan horse. To be quality based, culturally sensitive and socially responsible.

They would discover that Cushti Bok, the stallion that started it all for the Thompsons, was the highest-priced colt raised by Gypsies in all of Great Britain in 1992 at one of the world’s oldest Gypsy Horse fairs. The Thompsons eventually traced Cushti Bok’s heritage back through three different countries. They would find his parents in one country and his grandparents in another. All raised by dedicated Gypsy breeders focused on creating a horse with a specific look.

The primary breeds that went into creating the Gypsy Vanner Horse are the Shire, Clydesdale, Friesian, and the Dales Pony. Many Gypsy horses are of unknown heritage and are a type not a breed.

In learning more about the heritage of the special horses, one phrase kept popping up. It is a proper Vanner was used to describe a horse whose conformation and overall appearance fit the most desired look for a horse to pull a Gypsy’s caravan. Although Gypsy caravans and carts can be found in many European countries, only in Great Britain did the Gypsy caravan literally become an art form, making the English version the most highly decorative Gypsy caravan in the world. Understandably, the owners of such caravans sought to breed a horse ideal for pulling their colorful wagons.

Originally, the horses that pulled the Gypsy’s carts and caravans were not colored, nor were they a specific type. Only after...
World War Two did the white) are the most common, but any color is allowed. small as 12.2 hands to hind legs. Height is as at or near the hock on the knee on the front legs and feathering begins at the back, heavy bone, and broad chest and hips, they have a more refined head than most draft types. The build is that of a small Shire or light draft horse. With a short broad chest and hips, they have a more refined head than most draft types. Feathering begins at the knee on the front legs and at or near the hock on the hind legs. Height is as small as 12.2 hands to over 15.2 hands. Piedboul (black and white) and skewbald (brown and white) are the most common, but any color is allowed.

With an outstanding disposition, the Gypsy Vanner Horse is known for his kind and generous personality. Easily trained and capable of most any discipline, the breed is used for both driving and riding. The Gypsy Vanner Horse Society recognizes three different size categories in the breed, the Mini Van-ner, the Classic Van-ner, and the Grand Van-ner. The Classic type looks like an average size horse with a draft horse body, while the Mini type is simply a miniature version, as small as 12.2 hands, retaining the same drafty look and the Grand size is the same and over 15.2 hands tall.

The Thompsons imported Cushti Bok and The Gypsy King, and also brought 14 Gypsy Vanner Horse mares to the U.S. The first two fillies arrived in the United States on November 24, 1996. Kuchi, the first Gypsy Vanner Horse born in this country, was foaled on March 18, 1999. There are presently Gypsy Vanner Horses being registered daily with the Gypsy Vanner Horse Society both in the USA & the UK. These colorful and charismatic horses make an impact wherever they go and have proven themselves true crowd pleasers. Gypsy Vanner Horses appeared at Equitana USA in 1998 and 1999, and also took part in Equines Affaire in Ohio in 2001. The Gypsy King, was chosen as the likeness for a Breyer model in 2000.

ESTABLISHING A BREED

The public’s response to the Gypsy Vanner Horse since it was introduced in 1998 has been an explosion of desire, accompanied by a lack of understanding and compounded by a phenomenon called the Internet. The Gypsy Vanner Horse is the first breed in the history of breeds to establish itself in the age of the Internet. We live in an instant gratification society and the Internet has become a format to fulfill our gratification. The information on the Internet has developed from a variety of motivations. Much of the information on the Internet concerning horses raised by Gypsies is inaccurate, misleading, confusing, biased, parroted, or designed to chase the market without concern for the breed. The following are two of the most damaging pieces of information on the Internet and the facts you should know about them.

1. Gypsy horses simply go by different names which includes the name Gypsy Vanner Horse? False

The Facts: The name Gypsy Vanner Horse was chosen to identify the breed that became known as the Gypsy Vanner Horse. It is the only name that was carefully chosen after a four-year commitment to understand Gypsies and their horses. The name was protected for the breed and their horses that are used for personal gain or from a lack of knowledge. The GVHS registry was established with vision and knowledge of the breed. The name was patented for the breed society because it became obvious on the journey to understand Gypsies and their horses that the name and its history could and would be exploited for personal gain or from a lack of knowledge. The GVHS never intended to be private in any way or at any time. Unlawful use of the name Gypsy Vanner Horse caused confusion and has necessitated that the trademark be made into what is called a certification mark. The Registry is open to all people that embrace the mission of the society and all horses that fit within the certification description of a Gypsy Vanner Horse. Napoleon once said, History is but a battle agreed upon. When a clear understanding of the Gypsy Vanner Horse and the Society formed to celebrate and protect it, is achieved we are confident that the breed and its future will become another colorful chapter in equine history.
THE GIFT

In the beginning of our four-year journey to understand Gypsies and their horses we spent ten days at a three-hundred-year-old Gypsy fair in England called Appleby. A fortuneteller approached us to read our palms as we sat in an open stallion named The Roadsweeper. A veterinarian was scheduled to perform those examinations at our Gypsy Gold farm on July third, but that meeting was not to be. In the early morning of July third Cindy was foal watching a mare named Dolly, one of America’s first Gypsy Vanner Horses when a tragic accident took the love of my life. Her extraordinary love for animals was only matched by the kindness she extended to everyone who ever met her. Connecting the breed that Cindy named and loved to causes that celebrate the extraordinary relationship that is possible between a human and a magical loving horse is the perfect tribute to Cindy. Cindy was the embodiment of the beauty and kindness that is the breed, and the spirit of the visions that celebrate and honor it.

Cindy and I liked to compare the Gypsy Vanner Horses to Golden Retrievers with hooves. The breed can easily become the equine equivalent of what the Golden Retriever is to the human canines.

OPERATION DREAM MAKER

Nothing much happens without a dream. For something really great to happen, it takes a really great dream. – Robert Greenleaf

“A vision complete is a dream come true. It takes visions of integrity to share that dream with others.” – Dennis Thompson

A BRED IS BORN FROM A VISION

Established in 1996, The Gypsy Vanner Horse Society is the first breed society in the world to recognize a selectively bred horse raised by Gypsies as a breed. It is also the only breed society in the world uniquely based on a commitment of understanding and honor before it was established. An unbiased, non-prejudiced study of Gypsies and their horses that lasted four years before the Gypsy Vanner Horse was introduced as a breed in 1998 is the society’s foundation.

A Mission Statement was developed on that journey of understanding. It was developed as a guide for the goals of the society and as an inspirational source to develop visions that achieve those goals. The goal of a breed society should be simple, established and a long term sustainable market for horses of heritage, a dream shared and protected.

The GVHS Dream Makers will advertise horses that are pre-registered to potential buyers of the horse or it’s next offspring.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF CINDY THOMPSON

Visions to make her dreams come true

– By Dennis Thompson

SHE HAD A DREAM. HER DREAM LIVES ON

On July second 2002, Cindy was preparing for a pre-purchase exam for a colt named Thugata and a pre-lease exam for a stallion named The Roadsweeper. A veterinarian was scheduled to perform those examinations at our Gypsy Gold farm on July third, but that meeting was not to be. In the early morning of July third Cindy was foal watching a mare named Dolly, one of America’s first Gypsy Vanner Horses when a tragic accident took the love of my life. Her extraordinary love for animals was only matched by the kindness she extended to everyone who ever met her. Connecting the breed that Cindy named and loved to causes that celebrate the extraordinary relationship that is possible between a human and a magical loving horse is the perfect tribute to Cindy. Cindy was the embodiment of the beauty and kindness that is the breed, and the spirit of the visions that celebrate and honor it.

Cindy and I somehow knew that something quite unique and profound was happening in our lives. We quickly recognized that if we took the time to understand and protect the special horses that Gypsies had created, their magic could be used to bring good in many ways. This became a centerpiece to our mission with the Gypsy Vanner Horse. Luck and destiny are central to Gypsy culture and they both may well have been at play with two Americans the day we saw a magic horse and began a journey to understand it.

I recently attended a church service and the pastor was talking about how a loved one’s death can stimulate a destiny that lives within you. It seemed that Cindy and I were always guided by a destiny that we followed with great passion. Cindy’s death has awakened in me a deep desire to memorialize her goodness in a way that also seems destined to be with visions that honor, remember and make her dreams come true.

VISIOENTS TO MAKE HER DREAMS COME TRUE

– By Dennis Thompson
The latest Gypsy Gold Product is Pal Letter, a remarkable maintenance-free material that has the look and feel of leather with the strength and durability of nylon. A total array of horse tack will soon be available, as well as collars and leads for dogs and cats.

There will be numerous Gypsy Gold product and concepts, as colorful and fascinating as the journey that inspired them.

PATRIN MARKETING

Eight years of research and discovering fancies have given birth to a concept called Patrin Marketing. The word Patrin, is a Gypsy word that refers to a sign that sends a message. A simple clump of grass tied to a fence says to another Gypsy, turn here to find today’s camp. Flower pedals left by a Gypsy woman on the forest floor shows the way to tonight's camp.

Patrin Marketing will utilize short stories or intriguing signs that lead the consumer to a central camp called Gypsy Gold. When they arrive at the Gypsy Gold camp (web site) they will find an array of products that read fascinating stories that inspired them as they sit around a cyber campfire. As the products and stories unfold the consumer will take a journey of understanding, just like the Thompson’s did, through one of the worlds most colorful and least understood societies. The magical horses that Gypsies have created will build great equity with their powerful visual images on packaging, product displays and at consumer events throughout America, as they bring honor, recognition and a better understanding in a most colorful and unique way.

Gypsy Gold products and programs will be very powerful for the image and exposure of the Gypsy Vanner Horse. There is synergy between the Gypsy Vanner Horse breed, the products, programs, and visions that compliment and build equity in one another.

LUCKY MONEY™

All Gypsy Gold products will have a small donation inspired by a Gypsy custom. When you buy a horse from a Gypsy it is its custom to give you a little money back just to bring you luck. This is called Lucky Money.

A Lucky Money fund will be established to purchase Geldings that will then be donated to causes that celebrate the bond and benefits of a relationship between a human and a horse. (See Gypsy Golden Geldings and Cindy’s Sevens). Therapeutic Riding will be a major focus, Gypsy Gold’s mission based products and social programs will bring good in many ways, as they celebrate and promote the Gypsy Vanner Horse and all who love them.

SOCIAL PROGRAMS

GYPSY GOLD® ~N~ GELDINGS

The Gypsy Gold ~N~ Gelding program was conceived by Cindy and me to encourage breeders of Gypsy Vanner Horses to geld their colts and sell them at reduced prices to causes that bring good to others. The concept insures breed integrity,celebrates the breed’s innate good nature and brings great exposure and equity while doing good for others. Cindy and I sold the first Gypsy Gold ~N~ Gelding to a children’s bookstore in Minneapolis called Wild Rumpus. The store is nationally acclaimed for their creative use of animals to teach children.

AMERICA’S FIRST GYPSY GOLD® ~N~ GELDING

On any given day at Wild Rumpus Bookstore in Minneapolis, the customers of all ages are guaranteed an encounter of the animal kind. Children march confidently around the store, the air is filled with the sounds of doves, cockatoos, lovebirds,Finches and parakeets, four Maxx cats patrol the bookshelves and make the place their own, a rat colony lives under the haunted shed but sends a Rat-Queen emissary to interact with the loyal subjects upstairs, and the tarantulas (happily) keep mostly to themselves. How kids react to meeting these full time residents of the bookstore face to face is always unique and always a conversation a parent and child will love. They know a chicken named Elvis with a life history and experiences of his own. They touch the chicken, listen to him and sometimes hold him in their arms. They have chicken issues to discuss with their peers, their adults, even their neighbors. They love the chickens they know a chicken named Elvis with a life history and experiences of his own. They touch the chicken, listen to him and sometimes hold him in their arms. They have chicken issues to discuss with their peers, their adults, even their neighbors. They love the chickens

The weekend before Cindy died we were having lunch at a local restaurant. As we discussed the Gypsy Gold ~N~ Gelding program, tears welled in Cindy’s eyes as she talked about how wonderful it would be if we could give the first gelding away. Within three days a tragedy would take Cindy’s life. I am focused now on how I can honor her memory and the goodness she represented forever. Gypsy Gold ~N~ Geldings and the social programs her loss inspired is the perfect way to achieve that goal.

CINDY’S SEVENS

Cindy was enamored with the lucky number seven, our post office box is 771777, and her cell phone is 817-1777. Cindy sought out those connections to the number seven but there were many connections to Cindy’s Sevens that just happened. The first place we stayed when we imported Bat & Dolly, America’s first two Gypsy Vanner Horses, was a beautiful bed and breakfast in Virginia called Meander Plantation. We would stay at Meander again the next year, with Cushi Irik (good luck the first Gypsy Vanner Horse Stallion in North America). On that trip we were introduced to a man called Cindy and me with a request. He said, My wife loves the Gypsy Vanner Horse, and she has been in love with the Gypsy Vanner Horses since the first day she laid eyes on them. She saw them. It is her Birthday and I want to surprise her with something different, and real, and close enough to smell. Their faces light up, their jaws drop, and the questions begin."

The purpose of the Wild Rumpus Outreach program is to start that conversation with kids, speak to the unique issues in their lives, and make the connection to reading as a bridge to understanding. As the first Gold ~N~ Gelding born in America, Misto is a Literacy ambassador bringing books for each child to own and putting his unforgettable stamp on the experience. With his striking black and white markings and Gypsy heritage, he is a beautiful and gentle symbol of cultural diversity. The kids walk away having had all five senses engaged in the encounter, and with a book of their choosing to hopefully spark new conversations, ideas and thoughts to share with others. And oh yeah, they all know this horse named Misto.

The Gypsy Gold ~N~ Girls is you starting to feel the destiny and magic in this yet?

A man called Cindy and me with a request. He said, My wife has been in love with the Gypsy Vanner Horses since the first day she laid eyes on them. She saw them. It is her Birthday and I want to surprise her with something different, and real, and close enough to smell. Their faces light up, their jaws drop, and the questions begin.
The idea she said would honor the beautiful and caring lady Cindy was. Amy’s idea was Gypsy Gold ~N~ Girls. Chapters of equine loving women that dress with a Gypsy flair on a mission of raising funds for Gypsy Gold ~N~ Geldings and Cindy’s Seven. That was a magical moment for Cindy and me. Dr. Menard is a prominent Veterinarian in Marion County alone. There are many citizens in the world besides the four most prominent whose personalities are also centered around horses and the people who love them.

There has recently been a struggle by some of these unique areas over the right to use the phrase Horse Capital of the World. While most trademarks are a perfectly sensible way to identify and protect an image, Cindy and I both felt that this was not one of them. It is argumentative, hard to prove, and could be the people who love them.

My name is Seattle Slew. That was a magic moment for Cindy and me. A vision for cities of Luck & Love was born from this memory, the Ocala, Florida Mayor’s plans to create a carousel and a billboard that said Ocala, Florida the Friendly City. The vision is to identify and encourage cities with an equine profile to embrace the spirit of the social programs of Gypsy Gold. These cities will then develop a profile of goodness by embracing the magic of the Gypsy Vanner Horse, a living carousel horse, which is destined to bring good to others. Cindy’s death became reclusive and deeply depressed for months. I could only think about how to celebrate and memorialize her life with many of the concepts you have read about in this brochure. Many wonderful people tried to pry me from my world of seclusion to no avail. Laurie and Dr. David Menard were two of those people. Dr. Menard is a prominent Veterinarian in Ocala, and his wife Laurie is one of the most dynamic energies in Marion County for causes that bring good to others. Her recent effort with other like minded people raised almost one million dollars for charity with a project called Horse Fever. I would eventually accept an invitation by Laurie and David to attend an ice skating party in downtown Ocala, for Christmas. I was scared that a day would come when no one would ask again.

The temporary ice skating rink was one of many unique efforts to bring personality and fun to this city of horse lovers. The party was almost over when I arrived but while there Laurie introduced me to the mayor of Ocala. It was that conversation that gave birth to the concept of Cities of Luck & Love. As we talked about the mayors future plans for the city, we applauded the success of Horse Fever and then he shared his next project for the city. He said we will build a carousel in the downtown square with horses on the carousel painted to reflect Marion county’s more famous horse farms. We thought that Gypsy Horse would make a wonderful carousel horse. As I left that night I glanced at a billboard that said Ocala, Florida The Friendly City. I immediately thought, you can’t prove that, I arrived home consumed with thoughts about carousel horses and efforts make to bring equity and identity to themselves.

I began to think about the very first time that Cindy and I ever showed America’s first Gypsy Vanner Horses to the public at a private party. It was an event on the Southfork Ranch of Dallas fame called The Cattle Baron’s Ball. The event is the single largest fundraiser for the American Cancer Society in North America. At that event an elegant man repeatedly came to look at the magic horses he had never seen before. He would eventually approach Cindy and me to proclaim, I’m sorry but I can’t stop looking at your horses, you remind me of living carousel horses. He then said, You don’t know me but you might know a horse I used to own, his name is Seattle Slew. That was a magic moment for Cindy and me.

LUCK & LOVE™ MARES
This is a special concept that utilizes privately owned mares for the purpose of raising Gypsy Gold ~N~ Gelding embryo babies. Many very unique programs will develop from this vision that will be wonderful for the breed and all owners of a Gypsy Vanner Horse.

SPOKEN WORDS™
A mission of the Gypsy Vanner Horse Society is, To respect the spoken words of Gypsies that have dedicated lifetimes to create the perfect horse to pull the colorful caravans of their heritage. The Gypsy Vanner Horse Society will attempt to archive the recorded spoken words of Gypsies as they recite the heritage of their horses of history. A copy of that cassette will be available from the society to anyone that owns the horse; it is offspring or relative. A charge will raise funds for the society and the Lucky Money fund that celebrates the mission.

IN HER MEMORY
The image of Cindy, Cushi Bok (good luck) and the stories of Gypsy Gold, the Gypsy Vanner Horse, Lucky Money. Gypsy Gold ~N~ Geldings, Cindy’s Seven, Luck & Love Mare will be displayed at every location a Gypsy Gold ~N~ Gelding lives for the life of the animal. A list of every city of Lucky & Love, along with the logos of corporate sponsors that support the concepts will also be displayed.

COME SHARE THE DREAM
I have shared many worthwhile visions with you in this publication. For those visions to become dreams come true, many people must embrace them. When complete these visions will position the Gypsy Vanner Horse as one of the most magical breeds of horse in equine history. Great status and pride will honor the people who created the breed and dreams will come true.

Gypsy Vanner Horse® Society Breed Standards

A perfect caravan horse is strong, intelligent, docile, athletic, colorful and has excellent endurance. It is our mission to show that these same traits would make the perfect horse for any number of pursuits.

Horses will be evaluated based on the following seven points of conformation. A score of 7 denotes a Certified Gypsy Vanner Horse® approved for breeding purposes. At the age of 2 years for fillies and 3 years for colts, all horses will be evaluated for inclusion in either the A Studbook (premium) or the B Studbook (secondary). A filly that does not meet all of the standards may be registered with the Gypsy Vanner Horse® Society under a separate Gypsy Horse classification. Fillies in this classification can be bred to certified stallions and the filly foals resulting from that breeding are eligible to be certified at the age of 2 years as Gypsy Vanner Horses®, but all colts resulting from this breeding are to be gelded. Without evaluation and approval, no offspring will be eligible for inclusion in either of the Studbooks.

1. Short back in proportion to overall body (short distance between last rib to point of hip).
2. Broad chest.
3. Heavy well-rounded hips (slab sided or severely sloping hindquarters are considered a fault).
4. Heavy flat bone at the knee, ample hooves (small contracted hooves are considered a fault).
5. Feathering that begins at the knees or near the hocks extending over the front of the hooves. Ample to abundant mane and tail.
6. Sweet head (fine head on a strong neck in harmony with the horse’s overall look).
7. Disposition (the horse should exhibit traits of intelligence, kindness and docility; overly aggressive behavior is considered a fault).

Height classifications are split into three categories:
Under 14 hands: Mini Van-ner
14H to 15.2 H: Classic Van-ner
15.2 H and up: Grand Van-ner

For more information, please see the Application for Studbook Evaluation.

Mission Statement - The Vision Lives On

The Gypsy Vanner Horse Society’s Mission is to bring honor, recognition, and a better understanding to one of the world’s most colorful and least understood societies and the horses they so dearly love. This registry was established to protect a vision that was born over half a century ago to create the perfect horse to pull their colorful caravans. Our mission is to honor that vision by respecting the standards established from the spoken words of Gypsies who have dedicated their lives to the pursuit of their dream. A perfect caravan horse is strong, intelligent, docile, athletic, and colorful and has excellent endurance. It is our mission to show that these same traits would make the perfect horse for any number of pursuits. We will remain quality based, culturally sensitive and socially responsible in the pursuit of our dream.

Come share the dream with us.
